Statement Details Facts For School Vote Study

Milano Count,
Late Comers
To Swell Total

Cameron Schools Supt. D. R. Dodson issued a statement from school officials directed to voters in the Milano Independent School District, presenting information about Cameron Schools. The statement also explains how the consolidation would affect operation of the school. In explaining operation of a consolidated district, Supt. Dodson said proposed plans would require School Board action. "Should the consolidation election carry," the statement read, "the Milano Schools would continue to operate as set up for the 1970-71 term. Beginning with the 1971-72 term Milano students in grades 1 through 8 would be schooled in Milano with students in grades 9 through 12 attending school in Cameron because of the subject offering and facilities.

"A transportation system working to the advantage of both districts would be put into effect. Transfers from the consolidated district to neighbor schools would have to furnish their own transportation as required by State Law."

STUDENT RECORDS

The Cameron Schools last year produced a merit scholar, the highest ranking student in the school of engineering at the University of Texas; distinguished scholars at A&M, SMU, Texas Tech and Baylor, the statement continued.

Cameron students receive a number of scholarships each year in music, science and math. Most college bound students also qualify for advance placement, some picking up as many as 12 semester hours of college credit.

Consolidation of the two districts would result in the two districts (the new district) receiving $314,270 in Incentive Aid Funds (This is a tentative figure, Supt. Dodson said.) These funds may be used for permanent improvements or for a reduction in the tax structure.

CISD 1970 tax valuation is $26,104,086, based on 50% valuation with a rate of $1.00: 85¢ of this to maintenance and 15¢ to debt service.

The system employs 80 teachers, 10 teacher aides, and other auxiliary employees for a total of 131 people. The 1970 census and incoming transfers to the Cameron District totals 1790 students.

SCHOOL PLANT

The Cameron High School library is one of the outstanding libraries in this area. It also has a fine Media Center. (This center is well stocked with film strips, transparencies, supplies of all kinds, laminating equipment, and is capable of reproducing any printed material.)

The Cameron district also has projects in individualized instruction and team teaching. These two projects are proving invaluable in the training of other school personnel.

Building wise, the Cameron District is moving forward without a bond issue and there is no issue being contemplated at the present time. The District has just completed a new air-conditioned Band Hall and has a new air-conditioned home-making cottage under construction.

The high school students from Milano District could be absorbed into the existing facilities with little or no difficulty.

Milam County schools enrolled 4,375 students for the fall term this week as school bells rang for all county schools except Milano which begins classes today (Monday). School officials said the figure will be slightly higher next week with the addition of late-entering students.

Cameron schools enrolled 1,652 students in four schools with 510 in Yoe High School, 408 in Cameron Junior High, 632 in Ada Henderson and Ben Milam elementary schools, and 102 in St. Anthony School.

Rockdale schools reported an enrollment of 1,704. Enrollment at Rockdale High School was 554, Rockdale Junior High School had 439, and Rockdale Elementary 711 (including kindergarten and special education).

Enrollment in Thorndale schools was set at 518 Friday, with an additional 12 to 15 students expected this week. Thorndale elementary grades (including kindergarten) enrolled 212 students, Thorndale High School had 264 and St. Paul Lutheran (1-6 grades) had 42.

Enrollment at Buckholts (12 grades) was 113 as of Friday afternoon.

Gause with a 6 grade school had 48 students enrolled and Maysfield, also a 6 grade school, had 20 students Friday. Milano which opens for classes today anticipated an enrollment of 320 in the 12 grade system.

Rosebud-Lott schools which will also open for classes Monday estimates that enrollment for that consolidated district will be 1,078.

Senate OKs Bill, Spring Start Due For Gabriel Dams

U. S. Senate action passing a $1.5 billion water projects bill paves the way for actual construction on the two San Gabriel dams. It was announced by Cong. J. J. Pickle.

The bill, due to go to President Nixon for his signature, includes $4 million for the Gabriel dams.

The dams, to be located on the North San Gabriel about three miles above Georgetown and at Lanport, have been in the planning stages since receiving Congressional approval in 1952.

Land acquisition has been in progress about two years, with most of the 20,650 acres needed for the two reservoirs bought by the government.

Senate approval of the appropriation bill will allow the Army Engineers to start actual construction on the dams in the spring, Cong. Pickle said.

Lanport Dam will be 12,467 feet long and impound a lake of 4,400 acres at the top of the conservation pool. The North Fork Dam will be 5,950 feet long and impound a 1,310-acre lake.

A third dam has been approved by Congress on the South Fork of the San Gabriel, but it will be several years before it is built.

Two-Alarmer, Grassfires Keep Volunteers Busy

A two-alarm fire early Wednesday afternoon called volunteer firemen to 10th and Emancipation, where flames completely destroyed one house and nearly ignited a second.

Firemen were unable to save the frame home which was occupied by Harvey Pendleton. The second alarm was sounded when the flames spread toward a nearby house but no damage was reported.

A short time later firemen were called to a grassfire at 8th and Emancipation. They were called out at 4 p.m. Thursday to a car on fire near Cameron Nursing Home.

The alarm routed the volunteers out of bed at 4 a.m. Friday when a grassfire was reported on the railroad right-of-way on SH 36 near Buckholts. The fire was in tall grass on the south side of the tracks.

Fire Marshall John Andres said that the total number of grassfires reported so far this summer is "dry near as many as we anticipated." "Dry conditions are making the fire hazard serious and people are reminded to be careful."

Dear Milano Letter Writers:

Thanks for reading our editorial. We mention the singular because "What Of The Child?" seems to be the only one drawing comment, save those who acknowledge the revolution in curriculum and change in our schools.

Debate moves from basic strengths. I can't help but get the feeling some people think this consolidation is no one's business but the immediate Milano community's.

Once the Commissioners Court called an election, this became an issue for both school districts. Cameron's interest is as great in what commitments are required in such consolidation as Milano's.

We thank you for interest and opinions. We value your readership.

NOW-NOW-NOW

Cameron patrons will be interested in a unique "floating tutor" plan being implemented in the Cameron public grade school, one through five.

Your Herald will have a feature in the next issue or so about how a teacher uniquely qualified for such work will tutor students having specific problems in the lower grades.

And Cameron will be interested in the results of CISD officials inquiring into federal funding for 111 integrated systems in Texas, including CISD.

Supt. D. R. Dodson said this week it could mean additional funding out of some $9 millions plus federal funds to provide transitional income for classrooms, instruction or other related additional costs due to integration.

Cameron has been fortunate in the transition to a wholly integrated system during the past year. Indeed, the decision to go ahead when other communities in the Central Texas area hesitated puts CISD perhaps more than a year ahead of those delaying. Abrupt reorganization by court order may disrupt schools for months.

It at least clears the way for serious consideration of a Milano-Cameron consolidation, whether or not it is voted. Both systems are through that phase of dramatic change in public schools. The next phase is specialized, technical training on a much broader scale.

NOW-NOW-NOW

It is possible classroom walls will come down, that the inside of a school building will be anything but rows of desks in a few years.

Cameron schools are experimenting with 60 third graders to a class, two teachers working alternately with teachers aides standing by to assist.

Rosebud, now consolidated with Lott, has also pioneered in this type of school atmosphere with favorable results.

The "Little Red School House" is gone. And the familiar classroom desks in some areas of schooling may be next.

CISD Eligible For Desegregation Funds

Special emergency desegregation funds totaling over $8 million will be available to some 111 Texas school districts for easing desegregation problems, Texas Education Agency has announced.

Cameron Independent School District is one of the eligible districts.

Texas received the largest share of the U. S. Office of Education's $75 million emergency funds, which were awarded to 25 states and the Virgin Islands.

School districts may use the funds to employ visiting teachers, set up community programs, employ teacher aides, put team teaching or individualized instruction plans into operation, remodel buildings, purchase portable classrooms, provide for remedial or other special needs of children, or for any other program which may ease the desegregation process.

All the school districts eligible for funds may not receive them, an education office spokesman said, since Congress cut President Nixon's $150 million fund request in half.

School districts will compete for the funds, each submitting a proposal outlining how the money would be used.

Office of Education officials met August 24 with school officials in Texas to explain how the funds would be awarded.

Program development workshops are scheduled Monday and Tuesday at Dallas, and later at Houston. Supt. D. R. Dodson will be in Dallas Tuesday, along with other school districts' representatives.

The school districts will draft their proposals with the assistance of consultants from Texas Education Agency, USOE regional office, and The University of Texas at Austin.

After final approval by local school boards, the proposals will be submitted to the Office of Education.

Although no deadline has been set for applications, both state and federal officials hope to have some of the programs financed by November 1.

Had Diptheria Booster?

Recent outbreaks of diptheria in south Texas have caused an increase in requests for diptheria toxoid inoculations here and brought a reminder that immunization boosters against the disease are needed every ten years for adults.

Recommended schedule for diptheria immunization is at 2, 3 and 4 months of age with booster shots at 18 months, 6 years, 14 years and every 10 years thereafter.

In San Antonio, where 72 cases of diptheria have been confirmed this year, Health Department officials termed the incidence of diptheria an "epidemic." Two children have died from the illness.

County Health Unit workers said requests for diptheria toxoid inoculations have increased since the outbreak was reported in San Antonio. They said immunizations are available either from family physicians or from the Health Unit.

Presbyterian Pastor Resigns

Rev. W. Wirt Skinner, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Cameron, has resigned that post to accept a graduate study fellowship at Baylor University.

Skinner will study for his Master of Arts degree in the University's Church State Relations Dept. He will also be assistant editor of a Church-State Relations publication produced by Baylor.

The Skinnners, who moved to Cameron in November 1967, will live at the Robinson Drive Garden Apartments south of Waco.

SILO, TEXAS SIZE - A monster concrete slab is lifted into place at the huge silo under construction at Elm Creek Dairy Farm. The feed silo is 300 feet long, 40 feet wide, with 16 foot walls, and will hold at least 5,000 tons of ensilage. Slabs weighing 30,000 lbs. are poured at the bottom of the silo, then lifted by dragline into prepared slots at the base.

The Larger Truth....

They read us in Milano. It is suggested this consolidation, since it came up, is none of our business, we of Cameron who are asked to vote on the proposal, who did not initiate the proposal.

It is suggested that we outside "are prodding".

We suggest Milanoans explain to Milanoans why this is the second effort to dean-nex from Milano or to consolidate, as it were, with another district.

We suggest Milanoans tell Milanoans why accreditation questions were raised on the Milano system in recent years.

Since it is presumed none of our business, which, of course, it is with the consolidation proposal, we suggest Milanoans lay it on the line to Milanoans and try not to put the onus for two consolidation proposals on people outside the present district.

We are not taking away Milano's school. The proposal came from Milano district. Cameron, at least this newspaper, has not shucked responsibility by saying let Milanoans vote a fixed position or by saying let Cameronites vote a fixed position.

More is at stake in this than where a high school is located. The future of students is at stake in a vastly changed world. We have said so in Cameron district controversy, in Rosebud - Lott consolidation proposal, on occasions too numerous to mention. More is at stake than how many youngsters start college or technical school. How many finish?

The community school no longer can afford to be a football factory or a meeting hall, whether it is in Cameron, Milano, Rosebud - Lott, Rogers, Buckholts. Our kids jolly well may be employees in a computer complex in Australia in the next decade. Who knows?

We may save a 12-grade school for a time, but what are we doing to meet the technological needs in our schools, whether in Cameron, Milano, Rosebud - Lott, Rogers, Buckholts, even Rockdale, Lexington, Bryan, Temple?

Such consolidation will affect both Cameron and Milano schools. We have pointed out that more than $300,000 of incentive aid to such a combination is in the works. Better than that, consolidated and integrated systems of Cameron size and up are in line for additional federal funds from some $9 millions plus in Texas. Cameron officials are in Dallas Tuesday studying these possibilities for upto another half million for improvements in the Cameron District.

We have assuredly upset some people in Milano Independent School District, but we have assuredly opened some eyes, as well, to new possibilities to people living in Milano and who would still live in Milano should the consolidation occur.

We are interested in their kids getting as good an education as ours. We are interested in Milanoans knowing just as much about the Milano system as Cameron's.

We should know technology is a fact of need now in every high school. And schools the size of Milano are in no position to offer it, though hundreds of schools of this size remain in Texas.

Milano officials want a good picture of their schools or no picture at all in print. We all know a fixed position on this subject is the same as saying: "We are afraid to change because it somehow is a denial of what we have done in the past."

It appears we have hit upon a larger truth.

The larger truth is what this consolidation is about, whether or not that is what we vote on. And the larger truth is the consolidated unit would be stronger for students of both schools and no amount of persuasion and no amount of isolated information will change it.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Heart Attack At The Wheel

Tragic trouble may befall the person who suffers a heart attack while driving his car. His woes may include not only the heart attack itself, but even legal liability for any injuries he happens to inflict upon somebody else.

When will the law impose liability on such a person? Generally speaking, when he had reason to foresee the likelihood of a heart attack (or some other sudden disability). Anyone who takes the wheel under these circumstances is committing an affirmative act of negligence.

For example: A man went for a drive, even though he had a severe, chronic cardiac condition. He did suffer a heart attack. He collided with another car, and did cause injury to the other driver. And, in the course, a court held him responsible for the injury. Reason: he should have avoided the accident by not driving in the first place.

On the other hand, courts usually say that a first-time disability, coming "out of the blue," is not grounds for liability.

Thus, in another case, a court refused to impose liability for an accident on a driver who had blacked out for the first time in his life. One court even classified as unavoidable an accident caused by a sneeze, when the man didn't have the slightest warning that the sneeze was coming.

In one unusual case, a man headed down a steep hill in spite of the fact that he knew his brakes were in bad condition. When the car began to roll out of control, he became so frightened that he fainted.

Did his sudden fainting excuse him from responsibility for the collision that took place at the bottom of the hill?

No, ruled a court, holding him liable. The court pointed out that while the man could not be blamed for fainting, he could indeed be blamed for starting downhill with bad brakes. It was that original act of negligence, said the judge, that set the stage for disaster.

Letters to the Editor

August 26, 1970

Dear Sir:

I am writing in reference to your editorial in the August 17th edition of the Cameron Herald. The editorial was titled, "What of the Child". I think it only fair to be truthful and honest with the public and certainly many of your views and statements were misleading in your editorial. Some of these discrepancies are listed below:

First, I remember that in the 1968-1969 school year that Cameron pushed hard to consolidate the Buckholts Rural High School, but Buckholts did not wish to do so then and apparently do not wish to consolidate with Cameron today. Certainly, we would have to agree that both Rogers and Rosebud have outstanding school's and programs. Yet both were mentioned as waning schools.

Secondly, your reference as to the child being capable and ready to take their place in this modern society, is certainly unfounded. We find our student's are well equipped to go on to higher education or into the industrial force of our area. At Milano High School over the last five (5) years a total of one hundred twenty seven (127) students graduated, of these thirty-eight (38) have gone to a college or university, while nineteen (19) have gone on to a technical or vocational training school. This shows that forty-six (46) per cent of our students leave Milano High School not only prepared, but eager for advanced education. This is a per centage that any school system can be proud of.

Thirdly, the tax question is of no importance, the fact remains our school taxes are lower here, than in the school districts around us. But I would certainly have to agree that the school is the heart of any community. It brings people, business, and recreation to the community. It can name community after community that after giving up their school system, lost it's post office and business sites, and finally they lost their population.

The final and most important of course is the child. We feel that our students get a good education, have an opportunity to be an individual, and receive the individual attention each child needs and deserves.

I feel that being a parent with four (4) school age children and President of the Milano P. T. A. that I have more than right but a duty to point out these inaccurate statements.

Respectively Yours,
Herbert W. Thompson

ED NOTE: Rogers has a one-A school system with almost twice the students as Milano, a Class B school. Rosebud acknowledged need for change by approving consolidation with Lott last winter. A new high school at Travis is to be built for both systems. Buckholts Friday reported 113 students enrolled, roughly a third of Milano enrollment. Unfortunately, education is inextricably involved with a minimum numbers game. One-A schools will survive longer than Class B schools, though Rosebud, a One-A and AA school

In recent years, opted for consolidation. Cameron has about 1650 plus students. It leads us to believe the status is "go", not "quo."

Dear Sir,

Just thought you may want to include me on the Happy Birthday list in your paper. My birthday will be September 6. I'll be 29, again.

Certainly enjoy reading the news about the fine folks of Cameron and surrounding area.

Thanks.

Thornton Gets Loan For Sewer Plant

A $25,000 FHA loan has been approved for the city of Thornton to improve the community sewer plant, according to Cong. W. R. Poage.

The loan will enable the town to replace septic facilities with a more adequate treatment plant that will satisfy State Health Department regulations and eliminate a serious stream pollution problem.

The loan will be repaid in 25 years at 5% interest. Thornton is in Limestone County.

American consumers spent $104 billion for food in 1969.

Chamber Sees S. S. Tax Increase

If pending federal legislation is enacted, the saying that death and taxes are inevitable may soon include just how much taxes ... at least in the field of Social Security.

And the result would be a potential taxpayer's escalator heading in only one direction: UP, warns the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

It all began in the House of Representatives as H. R. 17550, a bill to increase Social Security payments by 5 per cent, plus providing a greater exemption of earnings retirees can receive from part-time jobs without jeopardizing these payments.

What emerged, however, is a measure not only including these goals but also calling for automatic benefit increases based on the cost of living. To pay for these increases, the bill provides for correspondingly automatic rises in the amount of wages on which Social Security taxes are based.

Under H. R. 17550, taxes could be raised every two years until wage earners would be paying $1,365 a year -- or more than $26 each week -- in Social Security taxes by 1993. This amount is more than three times the present maximum, and is based on the assumption Congress does not increase benefits, make them easier to get, or add new ones.

It is easy to chart what has happened to the Social Security system that began with a modest $30 annual tax in 1937 and has risen to a $374 maximum tax this year. There are other dramatic increases taxpayers will have to face if Congress does not modify H. R. 17550.

These automatic increases, plus the provision giving the executive branch the power to raise Social Security taxes without going to Congress, should be eliminated if there is to be more soundness in this government program, the National Chamber feels.

Congress should retain its prerogative to review the whole program periodically, as it has been doing in the past, and continue to make adjustments or changes to suit the times after study and debate.

Before there is final Congressional action on the legislation, taxpayers can only hope that there be serious consideration of their interests as the citizens who must foot the cost, and that they not be subject to a future plagued by steadily rising taxes.

MRS. MARK MAEDGEN HUMBLE

Chapel Wedding Unites Humble, Bride

Miss Susan Lea Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Clifton Boyd of Temple, became the bride of Mark Maedgen Humble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Garfield Humble of Cameron, in a high noon ceremony Saturday at the Austin Presbyterian Seminary Chapel. The Rev. James Cory solemnized the vows. The wedding breakfast was held at the Sheraton Crest Inn.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attended by her sister, Carol Elizabeth Boyd, maid of honor. The bestman was James Pernich of Houston.

Hope Circles Study Cities Dilemmas

Hope's Circles of the ALCW Buckholts will study under the theme "The Dilemma of Cities," finding the contrast pictured in the two mob scenes in Mark 11:1-10 and Mark 15:6-15.

The Hope Circle meets Wednesday 3 p.m. Sept. 2 in the home of Mrs. Johnnie Fuchs; leading the topic will be Mrs. Alvin Fuchs.

The Martha Circle gathers Wednesday 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Joe Zalesky; leader of the lesson is Mrs. Bruce Maslingill.

Meeting in the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Meek will be the Naomi Circle, on Wednesday; Mrs. Kenneth Springer will lead the topic.

The Rebekah Circle will be hosted by Mrs. Arnold Jungmann Wednesday 2 p.m. The lesson will be led by Mrs. Delfin Schiller.

The Priscilla Circle will meet Wednesday 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Joe Flaser; Mrs. Stanley Glaser will lead the topic.

The bride wore a gown of white crepe with the neckline softly collared and the empire waist belted in white satin. Her mantilla was of silk illusion bordered with Alencon lace. She carried a Bible with white satin streamers and stephanotis.

Her attendant wore a pale turquoise gown and carried a nosegay of rosebuds, carnations, and daisies.

The bride attended Mary Baldwin College and is a graduate of the University of Texas with a B.S. and M.A. in speech. She is now a social worker for the State Welfare Department in Austin.

The groom is also a graduate of the University of Texas. Upon successful completion of ten weeks Officers Candidate School at Quantico, Va., he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve. He will be on inactive duty until he completes law school at the University of Texas at which time he will enter on a four year tour of active duty as a legal officer.

The groom's parents were hosts for a dinner honoring the wedding party Friday night in Austin.

Farm Bureau Moves Office

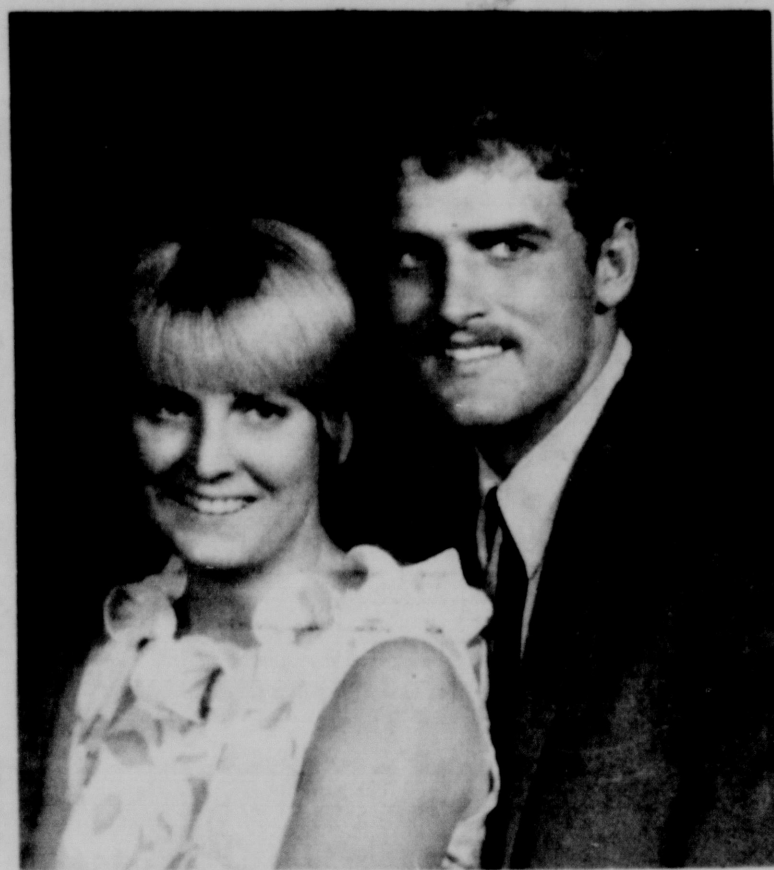

The Milam County Farm Bureau office has moved to its new location at 104 West First St., next door to the Montgomery Ward office.

The office was formerly located at 105 East Main St.

The land and buildings of the average United States farm are worth $100,000.

MRS. GEORGE FRANKLIN ZAROSKY

MARRIED - Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Kirk will make their home in Cameron following their wedding at 4 p.m. Saturday in the First Baptist Church. The bride is the former Jeanie McDaniel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elroy McDaniel of Cameron. Mr. Kirk, who is employed in Temple, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kirk, Cameron. Rev. J. E. Lafferty performed the double ring ceremony.

Zarosky, Donohue Are Wed

Miss Suzanne Renee Donahue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Louis Donahue, Lake-Bellaire, Texas, and George Franklin Zarosky, son of Mrs. Joe Zarosky, Sr., Route 1, Cameron, and the late Joe Zarosky, Sr., were married Saturday at Holy Ghost Catholic Church, Houston. Father Matthew Kerschen officiated.

The bride wore a gown of Alencon lace fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and pearlencrusted lace bodice. The skirt flowed from a fitted midriff to a chapel length train. A pearl covered cap held her Camelot veil which was garnished with Alencon lace.

She carried white roses centered with an orchid. A Rosary carried in the bouquet was purchased by the bride in Rome, Italy, last summer while she was vacationing in Europe.

Mrs. Bernice Kraemer of Cameron, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. Miss Nancy Brown was bridesmaid and Renee Byford, niece of the groom from Bryan, was flower girl. The bride's attendants wore aqua gowns fashioned with fitted midriff, soft cap sleeves and gathered skirt that formed a slight train. They wore flower-petal caps with brief veils and carried bouquets of pink carnations.

Brent Zarosky of Cameron, nephew of the groom, was ring-bearer.

Joe Paul Gerick III, of Cameron, cousin of the groom, served as bestman. Groomsman was Bruce Zarosky of Cameron, nephew of the groom. Serving as ushers were James E. Walpole of Cincinnati, Ohio and Turner N. Newton of Houston.

A reception was held at Marriott Motor Hotel.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Gourgues of Harvey, Louisiana, and Mrs. Louisa Vasquez of Gretna, Louisiana, grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. R. Iverson and Mrs. Maggie Burmaster of Gretna, Louisiana, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Shipp, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Zarosky, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Paul Gerick II, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Paul Gerick III, all of Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Byford and children of Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Alford of Fordoche, Louisiana, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Walpole of Cincinnati, Ohio and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kayachas of Falls Church, Virginia.

Following a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will live in Houston. Mr. Zarosky is Superintendent at Strachan Shipping Company, Houston.

You Don't Say . . .

LIKE unless you are referring to RESEMBLANCE.

LIKE, used for AS, AS THOUGH, and AS IF, is becoming more general . . . regretfully, for it is a serious error!

EXAMPLES:

She looks LIKE her mother (resembles).

It sounds LIKE thunder. "

It tastes LIKE cherry. "

It smells LIKE hickory. "

You sound AS THOUGH (not LIKE) you are ill. I feel just AS (not LIKE) you do about it.

You look AS IF (not LIKE) you could cry.

If you use good grammar, you HAVE good taste!

One-Class Train Fare

A "One-Class" passenger tariff will be inaugurated on the Santa Fe Railway effective September 1, John S. Reed, president, announced today.

"Under the new plan, passengers desiring to travel in sleeping cars will pay the same basic fare as those in chair-cars," Reed said, "subject only to additional payment for sleeping accommodations. We will no longer have separate class fares aboard our trains," he added.

Other Western railroads are increasing both chair-car and first-class fares by 10 percent. Santa Fe is joining in the increase for chair-car fares, but is alone in adopting the "One-Class" tariff, which has the effect of reducing fares about 10 percent for those in sleeping cars. Santa Fe will be the only

Western railroad offering this service, providing the lowest rates in the Midwest, Southwest or West for sleeping car travel.

From Temple to Chicago, the new fare will be $43.50 one-way and $87 round-trip plus sleeping car accommodations. Coach fare has been $39.47 one-way and $78.94 round-trip; first-class fares have been $50.07 one-way and $100.14 round-trip plus sleeping car accommodations.

FERTILIZE

The shortage of grazing and hay caused by lack of rain is creating problems for stockmen. There's still plenty of time left to grow a lot of forage, reminds A. C. Novosad, Extension pasture specialist, provided pastures are fertilized now and the overdue rains arrive.

No 'Brownout' Seen... Texas Has Ample Power

Texas Power & Light Company and other Texas electric companies have ample electric power to meet current and future needs, the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas stated.

In the August, 1970 "Business Review", published by the Dallas bank, it is stated that "growth in generating capacity in Texas has more than kept pace with the increase in peak-load demand.

"In contrast to the shortages threatening some parts of the country, estimated generating capacity in Texas is about 15 per cent higher than the peak load Texas utilities are likely to face during the summer months," the report said.

The report explained that installed electric capacity has more than doubled in Texas over the past decade, expanding from 10,054 megawatts in 1960 to about 23,700 megawatts in 1969.

"To meet the demand for electricity forecast for the 1970s, utility companies in Texas are expected to continue their rapid plant expansion at a rate that will double installed capacity by 1978," the report said.

This electric utility growth requires money -- money to operate and money to build.

For example, fuel accounts for more than 40 per cent of the operating and maintenance costs, not including taxes, of electric companies in Texas. Almost all this fuel is natural gas.

The demand for gas is increasing, and, consequently, so is the price. The Bank's article says that the nation's natural gas supply should last until just beyond 1983.

As a result, some electric companies are considering the possibility of using fuel oil instead of natural gas. But this energy source is more expensive and requires storage facilities and possibly a pipeline.

Other electric companies are looking toward using lignite, a form of coal, which can be mined in various locations in Texas.

TSTI Regents Hear VP Reports

HARLINGEN
The Board of Regents of the Texas State Technical Institute met on the Rio Grande Campus in Harlingen, Monday, August 24.

The board approved an operational budget for the 1970-71 school year and heard various vice-presidential reports. The budget was presented to the board by board member Russel Watson and senior vice-president of TSTI, Morris Webb.

The board approved an operating figure of just over $10 million, which includes all state appropriations, auxiliary funds, and federal funds. This figure must now be approved by the governor's office. In addition, the board is now working on the biennial budget for the 1971-73 school years. They plan to review temporary preparation in October on the budget.

Chairman of the Board of Regents, J. H. Kultgen of Waco, called the meeting to order in the new administration building of the Rio Grande Campus at the Harlingen Industrial Airport.

Dr. Roy Dugger, president of the Texas State Technical Institute, briefed the board on upcoming plans of all campuses for the 1970-71 school year.

Vice-president in charge of the James Connally Campus of TSTI, Jack Tompkins, reported that the Waco campus will open for classes September 8 with some 57 different courses of study.

Vice-president in charge of the Rio Grande Campus, Milton Schiller, and manager of instruction of the Rio Grande Campus, Archie Rozales, told the board that some 1200 students are predicted to enroll in the state's only bilingual technical institute this fall.

Dr. J. N. Baker, vice-president of the Mid-Continent Campus of TSTI at Amarillo, reported that everything is in order for the first classes on that campus scheduled to begin September 8. The school will open with ten different courses of study.

Manager of the Sweetwater Facility of TSTI, David Pevehouse, said that the school would open for the first time in Sweetwater with seven different programs. Sweetwater officials hope for an enrollment of 125 for the opening session of the school.

Dr. Maurice Roney, executive vice-president of TSTI, gave a brief report on the August 14 visit to the James Connally Campus of the Senate Committee on Technical and Vocational Education.

Conway Twitty Opens Texas' Prison Rodeo

HUNTSVILLE

Because of public support of the annual Texas Prison Rodeo for nearly four decades, the Texas Department of Corrections has one of the nation's best rehabilitation programs for its 13,000 inmates.

This year's event, held every Sunday in October, will highlight four top-flight country singing stars as featured guest performers who will join a host of tough outlaw convicts contesting the wildest rodeo stock to appear in any arena.

H. H. Coffield of Rockdale, Chairman of the Texas Board of Corrections and head of its Rodeo Committee, announced that this year's guest stars will be Conway Twitty on October 4; Willie Nelson on October 11; Jerry Lee Lewis on October 18; and Faron Young on October 25.

A special attraction each Sunday will be thrilling Chuckwagon Races to be presented by the same group that appeared during the 1970 Houston Fat Stock Show and Rodeo.

As has been the custom for several years, inmate entertainers will present a pre-rodeo variety show from 1 to 2 p.m. each Sunday. Inmates will also entertain visitors on the midway to front of the Huntsville Unit, beginning at 9 a.m.

The rodeo begins at 2 p.m. in the prison's $1 million stadium, located three blocks west of Huntsville's downtown square. The stadium seats 25,000 people, says Dave Price, Prison Rodeo Supervisor, who promises that the 1970 rodeo series will be one of the best in the long history of this annual event.

Reserved seat tickets, which are now on sale, may be obtained by writing Texas Prison Rodeo, Box 99, Huntsville, Texas 77340, enclosing check or money order for the tickets ordered. Tickets are priced from $3.00 to $5.50 with no reduction in price for children.

Net proceeds from ticket sales help finance inmate rehabilitative services.

Texas No 1 In Cattle, Swine Export

AUSTIN
Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced that not only is Texas No. 1 in exports of breeding cattle but now is also No. 1 in exports of breeding swine.

Figures released by the U.S. Department of Agriculture confirm that Texas leads the nation in exporting breeding swine, the Texas Department of Agriculture chief said.

The figures show that 48% of U.S. Breeding swine exports were provided by Texas producers. Total U.S. exports were 23,724 and Texas provided 11,399 of those. Indiana ranked second with exports of 1,540 head of hogs.

Commissioner White said Texas swine producers deserve considerable credit for achieving a high level of quality in their breeding stock, and he praised swine breeders for the cooperation they have given the Texas Department of Agriculture's Marketing Division in carrying out programs to promote increased sales both domestically and abroad.

The swine industry currently is one of the most rapidly growing segments of Texas agriculture, Commissioner White said, and export sales of breeding swine will stimulate even greater growth.

BEN MILAM STATUE

The Larger Truth....

They read us in Milano. It is suggested this consolidation, since it came up, is none of our business, we of Cameron who are asked to vote on the proposal, who did not initiate the proposal.

It is suggested that we outside "are prodding".

We suggest Milanoans explain to Milanoans why this is the second effort to deannex from Milano or to consolidate, as it were, with another district.

We suggest Milanoans tell Milanoans why accreditation questions were raised on the Milano system in recent years.

Since it is presumed none of our business, which, of course, it is with the consolidation proposal, we suggest Milanoans lay it on the line to Milanoans and try not to put the onus for two consolidation proposals on people outside the present district.

We are not taking away Milano's school. The proposal came from Milano district. Cameron, at least this newspaper, has not shucked responsibility by saying let Milanoans vote a fixed position or by saying let Cameronites vote a fixed position.

More is at stake in this than where a high school is located. The future of students is at stake in a vastly changed world. We have said so in Cameron district controversy, in Rosebud - Lott consolidation proposal, on occasions too numerous to mention. More is at stake than how many youngsters start college or technical school. How many finish?

The community school no longer can afford to be a football factory or a meeting hall, whether it is in Cameron, Milano, Rosebud - Lott, Rogers, Buckholts. Our kids jolly well may be employees in a computer complex in Australia in the next decade. Who knows?

We may save a 12-grade school for a time, but what are we doing to meet the technological needs in our schools, whether in Cameron, Milano, Rosebud - Lott, Rogers, Buckholts, even Rockdale, Lexington, Bryan, Temple?

Such consolidation will affect both Cameron and Milano schools. We have pointed out that more than $300,000 of incentive aid to such a combination is in the works. Better than that, consolidated and integrated systems of Cameron size and up are in line for additional federal funds from some $9 millions plus in Texas. Cameron officials are in Dallas Tuesday studying these possibilities for up to another half million for improvements in the Cameron District.

We have assuredly upset some people in Milano Independent School District, but we have assuredly opened some eyes, as well, to new possibilities to people living in Milano and who would still live in Milano should the consolidation occur.

We are interested in their kids getting as good an education as ours. We are interested in Milanoans knowing just as much about the Milano system as Cameron's.

We should know technology is a fact of need now in every high school. And schools the size of Milano are in no position to offer it, though hundreds of schools of this size remain in Texas.

Milano officials want a good picture of their schools or no picture at all in print. We all know a fixed position on this subject is the same as saying: "We are afraid to change because it somehow is a denial of what we have done in the past."

It appears we have hit upon a larger truth.

The larger truth is what this consolidation is about, whether or not that is what we vote on. And the larger truth is the consolidated unit would be stronger for students of both schools and no amount of persuasion and no amount of isolated information will change it.

Letters to the Editor

August 26, 1970

Dear Sir:

I am writing in reference to your editorial in the August 17th edition of the Cameron Herald. The editorial was titled, "What of the Child?" I think it only fair to be truthful and honest with the public and certainly many of your views and statements were misleading in your editorial. Some of these discrepancies are listed below:

First, I remember that in the 1968-1969 school year that Cameron pushed hard to consolidate the Buckholts Rural High School, but Buckholts did not wish to do so then and apparently do not wish to consolidate with Cameron today. Certainly, we would have to agree that both Rogers and Rosebud have outstanding schools and programs. Yet both were mentioned as waning schools.

Secondly, your reference as to the child being capable and ready to take their place in this modern society, is certainly unfounded. We find our student's are well equipped to go on to higher education or into the industrial force of our area. At Milano High School over the last five (5) years a total of one hundred twenty seven (127) students graduated, of these thirty-eight (38) have gone to a college or university, while nineteen (19) have gone on to a technical or vocational training school. This shows that forty-six (46) per cent of our students leave Milano High School not only prepared, but eager for advanced education. This is a percentage that any school system can be proud of.

Thirdly, the tax question is of no importance, the fact remains our school taxes are lower here, than in the school districts around us. But I would certainly have to agree that the school is the heart of any community. It brings people, business, and recreation to the community. It can name community after community that after giving up their school system, lost it's post office and business sites, and finally they lost their population.

The final and most important of course is the child. We feel that our students get a good education, have an opportunity to be an individual, and receive the individual attention each child needs and deserves.

I feel that being a parent with four (4) school age children and President of the Milano P. T. A. that I have more than right but a duty to point out these inaccurate statements.

Respectfully Yours,
Herbert W. Thompson

ED NOTE: Rogers has a one-A school system with almost twice the students as Milano, a Class B school. Rosebud acknowledged need for change by approving consolidation with Lott last winter. A new high school at Travis is to be built for both systems. Buckholts Friday reported 113 students enrolled, roughly a third of Milano enrollment. Unfortunately, education is inextricably involved with a minimum numbers game. One-A schools will survive longer than Class B schools, though Rosebud, a One-A and AA school in recent years, opted for consolidation. Cameron has about 1650 plus students. It leads us to believe the status is "go", not "quo."

Thornton Gets Loan For Sewer Plant

A $25,000 FHA loan has been approved for the city of Thornton to improve the community sewer plant, according to Cong. W. R. Poage.

The loan will enable the town to replace septic facilities with a more adequate treatment plant that will satisfy State Health Department regulations and eliminate a serious stream pollution problem.

The loan will be repaid in 25 years at 5% interest. Thornton is in Limestone County.

American consumers spent $104 billion for food in 1969.

Chamber Sees S. S. Tax Increase

If pending federal legislation is enacted, the saying that death and taxes are inevitable may soon include just how much taxes --- at least in the field of Social Security.

And the result would be a potential taxpayer's escalator heading in only one direction: UP, warns the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

It all began in the House of Representatives as H. R. 17550, a bill to increase Social Security payments by 5 per cent, plus providing a greater exemption of earnings retirees can receive from part-time jobs without jeopardizing these payments.

What emerged, however, is a measure not only including these goals but also calling for automatic benefit increases based on the cost of living. To pay for these increases, the bill provides for correspondingly automatic rises in the amount of wages on which Social Security taxes are based.

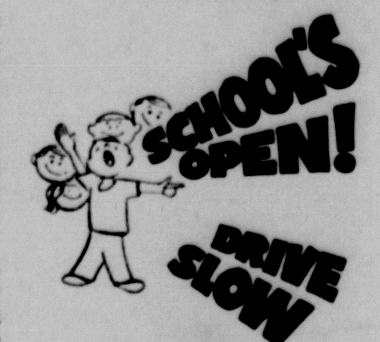

Under H. R. 17550, taxes could be raised every two years until wage earners would be paying $1,365 a year -- or more than $26 each week -- in Social Security taxes by 1993. This amount is more than three times the present maximum, and is based on the assumption Congress does not increase benefits, make them easier to get, or add new ones.

It is easy to chart what has happened to the Social Security system that began with a modest $30 annual tax in 1937 and has risen to a $374 maximum tax this year. There are other dramatic increases taxpayers will have to face if Congress does not modify H. R. 17550.

These automatic increases, plus the provision giving the executive branch the power to raise Social Security taxes without going to Congress, should be eliminated if there is to be more soundness in this government program, the National Chamber feels.

Congress should retain its prerogative to review the whole program periodically, as it has been doing in the past, and continue to make adjustments or changes to suit the times after study and debate.

Before there is final Congressional action on the legislation, taxpayers can only hope that there be serious consideration of their interests as the citizens who must foot the cost, and that they not be subject to a future plagued by steadily rising taxes.

THE MILY LAWYER

Heart Attack At The Wheel

Little trouble may befall the person who suffers a heart attack while driving his car. His woes may include not only the heart attack itself, but even legal liability for any injuries he happens to inflict upon somebody else.

When will the law impose liability on such a person? Generally speaking, when he had knowledge of the likelihood of a heart attack for some other reason. Anyone who takes the time to take these circumstances is committing an affirmative act of negligence.

The example of a man who, upon being told a heart attack was coming, drove to a hospital and died, is a classic case. The man was not held liable for the accident because he was not driving in the first place.

should have avoided the accident by not driving in the first place.

On the other hand, courts usually say that a first-time disability, coming "out of the blue," is not grounds for liability.

Thus, in another case, a court refused to impose liability for an accident on a driver who had blacked out for the first time in his life. One court even classified as unavoidable an accident caused by a sneeze, when the man didn't have the slightest warning that the sneeze was coming.

In one unusual case, a man headed down a steep hill in spite of the fact that he knew his car was in bad condition. When the car began to roll out of control, he became so frightened that he fainted.

The sudden fainting excuse was not responsible for the accident. The man was not driving in the first place.

blamed for fainting, he could indeed be blamed for starting down a hill with bad brakes. It was that original act of negligence, said the judge, that set the stage for disaster.

You Don't Say ...

LIKE unless you are referring to RESEMBLANCE.

LIKE, used for AS, AS THOUGH, and AS IF, is becoming more general ... regretably, for it is a serious error!

EXAMPLES:

She looks LIKE her mother (resembles).

It sounds LIKE thunder. "

It tastes LIKE cherry. "

It smells LIKE hickory. "

You sound AS THOUGH (not LIKE) you are ill. I feel just AS (not LIKE) you do about it.

You look AS IF (not LIKE) you could cry.

If you use good grammar, you HAVE good taste!

One-Class Train Fare

A "One-Class" passenger tariff will be inaugurated on the Santa Fe Railway effective September 1, John S. Reed, president, announced today.

"Under the new plan, passengers desiring to travel in sleeping cars will pay the same basic fare as those in chair-cars," Reed said. "subject only to additional payment for sleeping accommodations. We will no longer have separate class fares aboard our trains," he added.

Other Western railroads are increasing both chair-car and first-class fares by 10 percent. Santa Fe is joining in the increase for chair-car fares, but is alone in adopting the "One-Class" tariff, which has the effect of reducing fares about 10 percent for those in sleeping cars. Santa Fe will be the only

Western railroad offering this service, providing the lowest rates in the Midwest, Southwest or West for sleeping car travel. From Temple to Chicago, the new fare will be $43.50 one-way and $87 round-trip plus sleeping car accommodations. Coach fare has been $39.47 one-way and $78.94 round-trip; first-class fares have been $50.07 one-way and $100.14 round-trip plus sleeping car accommodations.

FERTILIZE

The shortage of grazing and hay caused by lack of rain is creating problems for stockmen. There's still plenty of time left to grow a lot of forage, reminds A. C. Novosad, Extension pasture specialist, provided pastures are fertilized now and the overdue rains arrive.

Texas Has Ample Power

Texas Power & Light Company and other Texas electric companies have ample electric power to meet current and future needs, the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas stated.

In the August, 1970 "Business Review", published by the Dallas bank, it is stated that "growth in generating capacity in Texas has more than kept pace with the increase in peak-load demand.

"In contrast to the shortages threatening some parts of the country, estimated generating capacity in Texas is about 15 per cent higher than the peak load Texas utilities are likely to face during the summer months," the report said.

Conway Twitty Opens Texas' Prison Rodeo

HUNTSVILLE

Because of public support of the annual Texas Prison Rodeo for nearly four decades, the Texas Department of Corrections has one of the nation's best rehabilitation programs for its 13,000 inmates.

This year's event, held every Sunday in October, will highlight four top-flight country singing stars as featured guest performers who will join a host of tough outlaw cowboys contesting the wildest rodeo stock to appear in any arena.

H. H. Coffield of Rockdale, Chairman of the Texas Board of Corrections and head of its Rodeo Committee, announced that this year's guest stars will be Conway Twitty on October 4; Willie Nelson on October 11; Jerry Lee Lewis on October 18; and Faron Young on October 25. A special attraction each Sunday will be thrilling Chuckwagon Races to be presented by the same group that appeared during the 1970 Houston Fat Stock Show and Rodeo.

As has been the custom for several years, inmate entertainers will present a pre-rodeo variety show from 1 to 2 p.m. each Sunday. Inmates will also entertain visitors on the midway to front of the Huntsville Unit, beginning at 9 a.m.

The rodeo begins at 2 p.m. in the prison's $1 million stadium, located three blocks west of Huntsville's downtown square. The stadium seats 25,000 people, says Dave Price, Prison Rodeo Supervisor, who promises that the 1970 rodeo series will be one of the best in the long history of this annual event.

Reserved seat tickets, which are now on sale, may be obtained by writing Texas Prison Rodeo, Box 99, Huntsville, Texas 77340, enclosing check or money order for the tickets ordered. Tickets are priced from $3.00 to $5.50 with no reduction in price for children.

Net proceeds from ticket sales help finance inmate rehabilitative services.

TSTI Regents Hear VP Reports

HARLINGEN

The Board of Regents of the Texas State Technical Institute met on the Rio Grande Campus in Harlingen, Monday, August 24.

The board approved an operational budget for the 1970-71 school year and heard various vice-presidential reports. The budget was presented to the board by board member Russel Watson and senior vice-president of TSTI, Morris Webb.

The board approved an operational figure of just over $10 million, which includes all state appropriations, auxiliary funds, and federal funds. This figure must now be approved by the governor's office. In addition, the board is now working on the biennial budget for the 1971-73 school years. They plan to review temporary preparation in October on the budget.

Chairman of the Board of Regents, J. H. Kuitgen of Waco, called the meeting to order in the new administration building of the Rio Grande Campus at the Harlingen Industrial Airport.

Dr. Roy Dugger, president of the Texas State Technical Institute, briefed the board on upcoming plans of all campuses for the 1970-71 school year.

Vice-president in charge of the James Connally Campus of

TSTI, Jack Tompkins, reported that the Waco campus will open for classes September 8 with some 57 different courses of study.

Vice-president in charge of the Rio Grande Campus, Milton Schiller, and manager of instruction of the Rio Grande Campus, Archie Rozales, told the board that some 1200 students are predicted to enroll in the state's only bilingual technical institute this fall.

Dr. J. N. Baker, vice-president of the Mid-Continent Campus of TSTI at Amarillo, reported that everything is in order for the first classes on that campus scheduled to begin September 8. The school will open with ten different courses of study.

Manager of the Sweetwater Facility of TSTI, David Pevehouse, said that the school would open for the first time in Sweetwater with seven different programs. Sweetwater officials hope for an enrollment of 125 for the opening session of the school.

Dr. Maurice Roney, executive vice-president of TSTI, gave a brief report on the August 14 visit to the James Connally Campus of the Senate Committee on Technical and Vocational Education.

Texas No 1 In Cattle, Swine Export

AUSTIN
Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced that not only is Texas No. 1 in exports of breeding cattle but now is also No. 1 in exports of breeding swine. Figures released by the U.S. Department of Agriculture confirm that Texas leads the nation in exporting breeding swine, the Texas Department of Agriculture chief said.

The figures show that 45% of U.S. Breeding swine exports were provided by Texas producers. Total U.S. exports were 23,724 and Texas provided 11,399 of those. Indiana ranked second with exports of 1,540 head of hogs.

Commissioner White said Texas swine producers deserve considerable credit for achieving a high level of quality in their breeding stock, and he praised swine breeders for the cooperation they have given the Texas Department of Agriculture's Marketing Division in carrying out programs to promote increased sales both domestically and abroad.

The swine industry currently is one of the most rapidly growing segments of Texas agriculture, Commissioner White said, and export sales of breeding swine will stimulate even greater growth.
